Product description

A superbly crafted audio RCA cable with a coaxial design! This high-quality audio cable is primarily intended for use in hi-fi or home cinema systems – for example, to connect a CD player to an amplifier! Thanks to its effective shielding, it is virtually immune to any stray currents and interference. Oxygen-free copper (OFC) is used as the inner conductor, resulting in an exceptionally harmonious and transparent sound with good spatial depth. 24-carat gold-plated connectors ensure perfect contact reliability.
