The Oehlbach Flat Style One DVB-T2 HD antenna is designed to provide sharp and clear reception of digital signals. Oehlbach's development department has designed an antenna that combines current technology with exceptional design. The Flat Style One is installed within minutes and easy to use. The bar was set high when development of the new Oehlbach DVB-T2 antenna Flat Style One began. After all, Oehlbach's bestseller - the Scope Vision indoor antenna - had won the Stiftung Warentest test a good two years ago with an outright "very good" rating, leaving 13 other tested antennas behind. To make something very good even better - that was the task and here is the result. With the Flat Style One, Oehlbach now presents another top model of its Home Cinema DVB-T2 antennas with the latest technology for outstanding reception quality for digital terrestrial television packaged in a unique design.
